

*Local Geography
Day*

On Thursday 7th July we became Charlwood Explorers.

Six teams were sent out to find out about different places in the Charlwood. We had to follow a set of instructions and mark the route we were taking on a map of Charlwood. At each place there was a local expert who could give us some information about the place we were investigating. We then came back to school and all the groups shared what we had learned. Owl class also wrote a little booklet about the places they had been to. You can read them if you like they are on the library shelf.

A big  to our Local Experts

- Mr Anderson who explained about Providence Chapel
- Mr Gates who talked to a group about The Cottage (the oldest house in Charlwood) and to another group about the War Memorial
- Mrs Gillespie who explained how the play area had been developed.

- Mr Mount for talking about the church and letting the group go up into the bell tower.
- Mr Sewill who told his group all about Bristow's Cottage.
